SABBATH READING.

The Skeptic's Prayer.

O God whatever, if ever, thou be,
Unknown, if not unknowing, to thee,
Creator, if not the creature of me,
My Father, or offspring, whatever thou be,
If thou hast approach and can'st listen to me,
I come to request, if thou answer'st a plea,
That what thou would'st have me to think or to do,
Thou'lt give me the proof to see that it's true
And give me the will to carry it through,
Or give me the right to see for myself,
With power sufficient to do what is best;
Or, failing in this, to pardon me through;
Whatever I think, whatever I do.
—Independent.

God Hears.

God hears every true prayer of faith, and treats such prayer as His infinite wisdom and love decree; but God works no miracles in our times. The recovery of a sin-sick soul to spiritual life and health is really no miracle; it is according to God's normal method of saving all sinners who employ His appointed methods, and who rely on His almighty grace. Saul of Tarsus was converted by a clearly-miraculous manifestation of Jesus Christ to his bodily senses. But we ordinary Christians were converted in God's ordinary manner. When we sing the grateful words, "Love I much, I'm much forgiven, I'm a miracle of grace," we only use a strong figure to set forth the wonderful love of God toward us. But the regeneration of our souls—while it is by direct agency of the Holy Spirit—is also wrought according to God's established and normal methods. He promises to save every sinner who exercises true repentance of sin, and true reliance on His crucified Son for salvation.—Rev. T. L. Cuyler.

The Christian Minister as a Pastor.

Dr. R. S. MacArthur says in the Pulpit Treasury: "The pastor must be spiritual. This is first, second, and third. This characteristic of the pastor must never be absent. The man is more than the sermon, more than the pastor. Christ must speak through his lips and look through his eyes. This life must be hid with Christ in God. He may not always talk directly on religious subjects; in our modern-time boarding-house, or because of some family reason, it may be impossible to have prayer in the family. But a gentle, loving word can be spoken for Christ. The child may be kindly remembered; a passage of Scripture may be repeated which shall come like the benediction of Heaven upon weary and troubled hearts. If Christ, the Rose of Sharon, be in the heart, the perfume of his presence will fill all the atmosphere in which we move. The office which has been filled by the laborious Peter, the majestic Paul, and the seraphic John, and by scores of the noblest men who have ever blessed the world with their presence; the office which to-day is filled by some of the best men beneath God's stars, needs no vindication from me. God honors us; let us be true to our calling and the our Lord. There is no nobler motto than this: 'Whosoever saveth his life shall lose it, and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake shall find it.'"

There is a singular property with which the bat is endowed, too remarkable and curious to be passed altogether unnoticed. The wings of these creatures consist of a delicate and nearly naked membrane of great size considering the size of the body; but besides this, the nose is, in some varieties, furnished with a membraneous foliation, and others the external membraneous ears are greatly developed. These membraneous tissues have their sensibility so high that something like a new sense is thereby developed, as if in the aid of the sense of sight. The modified impressions which the air in quiessence or in motion, however light, communicates, the tremulous jar of its currents, its temperature, the indiscribable conditions of such portions of air as are in contact with different bodies, are all apparently appreciated by the bat. If the eyes of a bat be covered up, or if he be cruelly deprived of sight, it will pursue its course about a room with a thousand obstacles in its way, avoiding them all, neither dashing against a wall nor touching the slightest thing, but threading its way with the utmost precision and quickness, and passing adroitly through apertures or interspaces of threads placed purposely across the apartment. This endowment, which almost exceeds belief, has been abundantly demonstrated.—Forest and Stream.

MARKET OF PRICES.

Something New to Solomon—The Dance of Speculation—Creameries of the World of Labor.

[North American Review.]

While only one bushel in seven of the wheat crop of the United States is received by the produce exchange of New York, its traders buy and sell two of every one that comes out of the ground. When the cotton plantations of the south yield less than 6,000,000 bales, the crop on the New York cotton exchange was more than 32,000,000. Oil wells are uncertain, but the flow on the petroleum exchanges of New York, Bradford, and Oil City never hesitates. Pennsylvania does well to run 20,000,000 barrels in a year, and New York city will do as much in two small rooms in one week, and the petroleum exchanges sold last year 2,000,000,000 barrels.

When the Chicago board of trade was founded, its members were required to record their transactions. The dance of speculation has nowadays grown to be so rapid that no count is kept of the steps. The board was lately reported to have turned over as much wheat in one day as the whole State of Illinois harvested in a twelvemonth. Its speculative hogs outnumbered two to one the live hogs in the United States, and it is safe to say that the board raises five bushels of grain to every one that is produced by the farmers of the West. Securities have become as staple an article of production with us as wheat, cotton, oil or hogs. One million dollars worth a day of new stocks and bonds is needed in prosperous years to supply the demands of the New York stock exchange, and its annual transactions are nearly thrice the taxable valuation of all the personal property in the United States.

One of the things that would be new to Solomon, if he lived to-day, is the part played by the modern exchange in the distribution of the products of labor, and the redistribution of wealth. The honest industry that builds up our greatest fortunes is raising wheat and pork on the Chicago board of trade, mining on the San Francisco stock exchange, building railroads in Wall street, sinking oil wells in William street, and picking cotton in Hanover square. While the text books of the science of exchange are describing in infantile prattle the imaginary trade of prehistoric trout for pre-Adamite venison between the "first hunter" and the "first fisherman," the industry of the cotton plantation, the oil fields, and the farm is being overlaid by an apparatus of exchanges which will prove an extremely interesting study to the Ricardo of, say, the twenty-fifth century.

These exchanges are the creameries of the world of labor. The prices of the speculative wheat and the special hog of the board fix those of the real wheat and the actual hog of the field. The negro planter of Georgia who raises his bale and a half must sell it for what the cotton exchanges say it is worth. The man who works in the ground must take the price fixed for him by the man who works in the air. No one can understand the "corner" who does not comprehend the development and reach of the exchanges of our time. The manufacture of prices, like other modern industries, is being concentrated into vast establishments, and these are passing under the rule of bosses and syndicates. The markets, like political parties, are run by the machine. The people are losing the power of making prices as well as nominations.

Cousin Julia in Opera.

My cousin Julia is learning to sing hi—opera. Everything is on the hi now; hi—opera, hi—heels or hi—pocrisy.

When Eugene Augustus asked her to sing last night she flirted up her long train, coquettishly wiggle-waggled to the piano, and sang:

When ther moon-hoon is mihild-ly be-heaming
O'er the ea-halm and sthilent se-e-e-e-a!
Its ra-dyunce so-hoftly str-heaming,
Oh! ther-hen, oh ther-hen
I thee-hink
Hof thee-hee,
I thee-hink,
I thee-hink,
I thee-hink,
I thee-he-hehehece-hink hof thee-e-e-e!

"Beautiful, Miss Julia, beautiful!" and we all clapped our hands. "Do please sing another verse—it's perfectly divine, Miss Julia," said Eugene Augustus. Then Julia raised her golden (dyed) head, touched the white ivory with her jeweled fingers, and warbled:

When the sur-hun is bri-hight-ly glo-ho-ing
O'er the se-hene so de-hear to me-e-e,
And swee-heet the wee-hind is blo-ho-ing,
Oh! ther-hen, oh ther-hen
I thee-hink
Hof thee-hee,
I thee-hink,
I thee-hink,
I thee-he-he-hehehe-think, hohohohohohohoho-ohoh of the-eeeeeeeeeeee!!!!!

—Eli Perkins' Book.

AT a recent Southern camp-meeting the eloquent divine said: "The wheels of the righteous shriek and groan as they toil up the hills of salvation and over the ruts of temptation and the bridge of damnation, and have to scrowdge pretty lively to get up at all; but the sinner, with greased wheels and flying colors, slips down to tarnation like a dose of oil, with a rip and a whiz, and raises no dust whatever."

Fear is stronger than love.

PLEASANTRIES.

[From the Norristown Herald.]

BADTOOTH is the name of an Indian chief. When he drinks too much firewater, he should get "pulled"—by the police; forcepbly, if he resists.

A CORRESPONDENT asks: "Is there anything that can be burned to keep away mosquitoes?" Oh, yes. Barn the mosquitoes. That will keep them away.

SHALL we learn French?—Cayuga News. If you go to the theater much it might be worth while. By the way, what's "Let's go out and see a man" in French?—Philadelphia News. Oh, it's about the same as in English—10 cents a drink, and a clove thrown in.

A POPULAR summer resort in Maine is Lake Moosehicmaguticjocknahmakantajus. And we should think that was about the only way it could be pronounced. Another resort in that State is Mattaloonkpatapziscooskeagjibbovacktogusposseripgaggwamunk, but a very few persons resort to the task of spelling it.

SEVERAL brilliant intellects are now engaged in inventing new names for old colors in ladies' dress materials for next season. One man, after working sixteen hours a day for two weeks, has succeeded in evolving new names for two tints, viz.: "toper's nose" and "kicked dog." The latter is a yeller, of course.

A MAN with a "most remarkable memory" is exciting attention in England, but the chances are that when he borrows $5 from a friend, and promises to return it "in a day or two," the friend soon has cause to believe that his memory is not so "remarkable," after all. Nothing will shatter a man's memory like the loan of a few dollars.

AN observing Englishman, who has spent some time in this country, finds the American burglar and the American pickpocket decidedly inferior in audacity, enterprise and deftness to their English colleagues. We can't expect to excel England in all our industries. This country is young yet, and our burglars and pickpockets lack experience. But when it comes to bank officials and office-holders, who create a "shortage" of a hundred thousand dollars or more in their accounts, America will not take a back seat.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

THE dudes never strike. It requires an effort.

IT is a cold day when a frozen lemonade gets left.

THE English sparrow was an assisted emigrant, originally.

AH YOU, the prettiest Chinese girl ever brought to America, has married an Englishman in San Francisco. Ah, you rascal!

AN exchange says Atlanta is known as the great melon center of the South. Another great melon scenter is a colored man who gets his work in on the dark of the moon.

[From Carl Pretzel's Weekly.]

WHEN is the moon like a lady's finger? When it has a ring around it.

THE man who was in a quandary has come out and gone into the Elgin dairy.

THE man who was in Brown's stud; was discovered by the aforesaid gentleman and kicked out.

WHY is a man who has been imbibing in intoxicating beverages like a ship in mid-ocean? Because he is half seas over.

WHEN we think of those mean cusses in the Bible, who, when asked for bread got stone, we fire up with indignation. But that is no more than we get every day—we ask for sugar and we get sand.

AN auctioneer knocked down "Napoleon Crossing the Alps," "Mary Queen of Scots," and "Gen. Grant," for 50 cents. That is worse than a Chicago sandbagger, who only knocks down one man at a time.

A STREET SOLILOQUIZER.

I want to be a dude,
And with the dudes stand,
A plug-hat upon my head,
A cane within my hand.
And with the dudesses,
So nobby and so flip,
I'll make myself all solid,
And with a dudess skip.

—Chicago Cheek.

AN Austin lawyer caught a tramp in his office stealing some law books, which the latter intended to pawn. Seizing the intruder by the collar, the lawyer exclaimed: "You scoundrel, I'll have you tried and sentenced to the penitentiary." "Let go my neck, Colonel. If you are going to have me tried, I reckon I had better engage you as my lawyer, as you have the luck to be on hand."—Texas Siftings.

Fun gas bill is less and the ice bill is bigger;
The car fare foots up to a terrible figure;
The sun smites your head like a pedagogue's ruler;
You sit in a draught and get cold but no cooler;
The seaside is sought for the sake of immersion;
You spend your last dollar to join an excursion;
The insects of night grow more lively and numerous;
The fly, in his pranks, is more fiendishly humorous;
Your hat from your brow is more carelessly tilted;
You sit in the shade and grow glummer and glummer,
And taste all the joys of a roasting hot summer.

THE CHRONICLE.

BRIDGEPORT, FEBRUARY 28, 1885.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENTS.
PALMER & REX, 405-407 Sansome street.

Henry Burton, one of the dynamiters in custody in London, is reported to have offered the Government all the information he possesses as to the recent conspiracies. That is the way they do, turn informer; hang those he denounces, turn him loose, murdered by his gang, another informer, more hanging, and so it will go until not a dynamiter is left in Ireland.

In a lecture recently delivered in New York, Lieut. Schwatka said the Alaska Fur Company, the great monopoly that controls that Territory, will have made 500,000 per cent profit before 1890, when it gives up its charter, while the fisheries alone are worth $1,000,000 annually, and there is good grazing there for cattle, enough to feed ten San Franciscos.

The Chinese Government intends making the expulsion of Chinese from Eureka, an international matter, and will claim indemnity from the United States. That threat was made when a lot of Chinamen were hanged by a mob in Los Angeles in '71. How often have Americans and other foreigners been driven out of China towns?

The people of Gilmer, Braxton and Calhoun counties, Virginia, are starving, the drought last Summer having ruined their crops. Coffee and tea are not to be had, and potatoes disappeared months ago, and there are not 500 bushels of wheat in the three counties. Cattle are dying in herds.

In a dry goods fight at Chambersburgh, Penn., one firm put the price of calico down to one-quarter of a cent per yard, whereupon the rival concern offered calico at one-eighth of a cent, or eight yards for a cent.

The second prize for butter at the Calcutta exhibition was awarded for a fine sample of American oleomargarine. Some one spoiled a good joke, and the judges reconsidered their award.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—Harper's Magazine for March contains the third instalment of Miss Woolson's new story, "East Angels," which promises to be one of the most remarkable of American novels. The frontispiece is a sonnet by Wadsworth, set in a beautiful full-page illustration by Alfred Parsons. The illustrated articles are "The House of Orange," "A Glimpse of some Washington Houses," "The Cape Ann Quarries," "In an Old Virginia Town," (Fredericksburg), "The Tricks and Manners of a Cat-bird," "At the Red Glove." PURCHASING PARDONS.—Governor Stoneman has pardoned an extraordinary number of criminals. A few days since he pardoned young Upson, convicted at San Francisco and sentenced to imprisonment for two years and a half in the House of Correction for having counterfeiter's tools in his possession. His father resides East, and is wealthy. He sent $1,000 to assist his son, and the young man says that he paid $600 for his pardon—$300 down and the balance upon production of the document, and the latter payment was exacted before the pardon was handed to the Sheriff, as no pay, no pardon. He says that the money was paid to State Senator Perry. What an age of corruption this is!

A Dorset, Vt., lady was last Summer bitten in the thumb by a pet kitten. It was painful for some time, but finally healed and remained so until a few days since, when it became painful and threw her into brain fever, and her life is despaired of. Physicians say that the poison from the bite gathered into a pus sac and adhered to nerve, causing a nervous overthrow and derangement of the brain. Don't foodle cats and dogs.

On Tuesday, at Port Costa, Charles Glancey, aged 14 years, attempted to jump on a switch engine, missed and was killed instantly.

The Senate Committee reported favorably upon the Assembly bill for the relief of the County Treasurers whose special deposits were stolen by January.

On Wednesday next Arthur steps out, and Cleveland steps into the White House.

BRIDGEPORT, FEBRUARY 28, 1885.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE WINTER.—The close of the Winter months—the English counting December, January and February, and the Americans from December 21st, to March 21st, as Winter, is a fitting opportunity to contrast a Winter in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, of California, with that east of the Rocky Mountains—highlands and lowlands This town, Bridgeport, is on the eastern slope of the Sierras at an altitude equal to that of Mount Washington, N. H. The Winter in the Eastern and Western States has been severe in snows and cold, blocking roads, impeding travel and deranging business. Here, over 6,000 feet above the lowlands of the East, the snow has fallen at intervals not exceeding one inch depth, days have not been cold—tires often being dispensed with and doors opened, the nights have been generally moderate, stock have ranged at all times in the fields, roads open, outdoor work as in Summer, without interruption. With such a pleasant season, why should not our people be happy?

CHANGE OF BASE.—Under New To-Day will be found the professional card of Bennett & Reddy, wherein our fellow citizen, Paul W. Bennett, announces himself located at Stockton. We regret to lose Mr. Bennett as a neighbor, but are pleased to hear that his removal to a lower altitude has been beneficial to his health. For many years he has been one of the most prominent and successful attorneys of Inyo and Mono counties, and for a long time was special counsel of our Board of Supervisors, in which position he was of signal benefit to Mono county. In our loss Stockton gains an estimable citizen, an able attorney and conscientious counselor. Mrs. Bennett will be greatly missed in Bridgeport social circles when she leaves to join her husband, which she will at an early day. We commend Mr. Bennett to the Stocktonians and trust he will receive a goodly share of their legal business.

THE MASQUERADE.—The Masquerade Ball to be given at Bryant's Hall on next Wednesday evening—Inauguration Day—will be the gayest affair of the kind ever witnessed in this county. All parts of the county will be represented. The Committees having the affair in hand will spare no expense in making it worthy of our town and the Day. Glenn's Bodie Quadrille Band has been engaged to furnish the music. Spacious dressing rooms have been attached to the hall, and nothing will be overlooked that will add to the comfort and pleasures of the guests. The supper, to be prepared by Mrs. A. F. Bryant and Mrs. Henry Doanell will be a first-class repast. As our Democratic friends have not had a live President for over a quarter of a century there should be a general turnout, irrespective of party ties, to give the new President a good send-off. It will cost but $2.50 for yourself and best girl, the tickets including supper for two.

ANTELOPE SCHOOL.—The following is the Antelope school Report for the month ending February 20th, Miss Kate M Morford, Teacher,

Pupils enrolled 30, average number belonging —, average daily attendance 29.

Days absence, 13; tardy, 4.

Roll of Honor—According to standing, beginning with the highest:

Georgie Beeding, Dora Beeding, Thos. Carney, Owin Larson, Lee Wheeler, Bertha Beeding, Maggie Job, Henry Carney, Peter Mitchell, Mosie Job, Victor Larson, Geo. Barnett, Mattie Beeding, Louisa Job, John Carney, Floreno McKay, and Fred. Willis.

TAX SALES.—Tax Collector Montrose has postponed the sale of the delinquent tax property until Wednesday, March 11th. The sale will be continued daily, closing on Saturday, March 14th. Final report has to be filed in the Auditor's office on Monday, March 16th, so the closing on Saturday is imperative, and no further time can be granted delinquents.

HAY.—Loose hay is delivered in town at $8 per ton. Five years ago baled hay was worth $25 per ton on the ranches.

MONO'S QUOTA.—Of the State School money, Mono county receives $2,959 25.

ANTELOPE SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The Antelope School, Miss Kate M. Morford, teacher, gave a highly satisfactory exhibition at the M. E. Church, at Coleville, on Saturday evening last. The Church was filled with the friends of the school and residents of the valley, and a delegation from Bridgeport. The exercises consisted of singing by the school, dialogues, declamations, recitations, songs, etc., in which every scholar took a part. Where all did so well we will not attempt to give individual credit. The exercises, in part, were, a dialogue, "Courtship under many Difficulties;" Declamation, "David's Lamentation;" recitation, "Charlie McCree;" song "Rueben and Rachel;" song, "No Sir!" recitation, "Bingen on the Rhine;" a medley, "Doings at Home," by the school. The girls were washing, ironing, sewing, etc, and the boys were cutting wood, and doing other boyish chores. It was well arranged, very comical, and had to be repeated. The "Rainbow" by the girls of the school was prettily done, all being tastily dressed in white and wearing crowns of the rainbow colors. "Mount Vernon Bells" was well sung by the school. Another pleasing idea was intrusted to nine boys to enact. As each boy ascended the stage he displayed a large letter and recited a verse, and when all were in line the legend, "Let Us Work" confronted the audience. The "Curfew Bell" was well recited, and one of the little girls, who will be entertaining her own beau before many years roll by, "Entertained her Eldest Sister's Beau" in a manner that made her forced guest wish his young hostess was in Jericho, where thousands of older beaux have at times consigned their best girl's young brother or sister. There were other exercises, the entertainment not concluding till after eleven o'clock. The exhibition was a very creditable one, and spoke well for the efficiency of the teacher, who has had charge of the school but a few months, but she has been doing good work, and the admirable manner in which her pupils acquitted themselves was evidence of her capabilities in the school room. We congratulate our Antelope friends upon the continued success of their school, and suggest the propriety of other teachers exhibiting, now and then, the result of their work in their school rooms.

PERSONAL.—Miss Annie Pratt, daughter of Mrs. Frank Hanson, arrived from the East on Thursday and will make this her permanent home.

Miss Naomi Angel, Superintendent of Schools, was in town this week on official business, returning to Bodie this morning.

A. C. Glenn, of Bodie, was in town on Tuesday.

WILL OPEN.—The Bodie School will open on Monday next with Prof. Knowlton as Principal, and Miss Angel in charge of the Intermediate Department, and Mrs. Nellie Summers of the Primary. Mrs. Knowlton will have charge of the Lundy School the coming term.

HAVE you secured your partner for the masquerade? Delays are dangerous.

Goodson's Ore Pulverizer,
THE JUGGERNAT.
PATENTED OCTOBER 7, 1884.

ONE THOUSAND PER CENT. MORE ECONOMICAL than any ore reducing machine ever before invented.

A sixty horse power machine pulverizes 1,000 TONS of ore in twenty-four hours.

The attention of mining men and all persons who are interested in mining industries, is most respectfully called to the JUGGERNAUT OR PULVERIZER, and those contemplating the erection of any kind of reduction works will find it to thoroughly examine the JUGGERNAUT before purchasing or erecting any other kind of quartz mills. In fact those stamp mills and all street sweeping machines will put JUGGERNAUT in their place. It is the simplest, cheapest in construction, inexpensive to operate, and capable of producing the greatest results of any ore pulverizing machine ever before known. There is no loss of time by breakage of crushing dies, no waste of power by slippage of belts, no waste of quicksilver, and no waste of power by friction of machinery, as the JUGGERNAUT will be driven by a direct connection with the motive power. Ores will be reduced in proportion as they are finely or coarsely ground.

In addition to the pulverizer the proprietor will furnish, if desired, the sewing machine belt, the brass and rubber tire required and to our patrons and the commercial man the JUGGERNAUT ORE PULVERIZER will prove to be to the miner.

THE WARNER.

FOUR MACHINES IN ONE.
A Broadcast Seeder; A Field Cultivator and Harrow; A Two-Horse Corn Cultivator, and a One-Horse Corn Cultivator.
Each one of these above named implements combined in the one represented in the illustration, is an admirable implement for the purpose intended, combining more valuable features than any other Sulky Harrow and worth twice its price. Its Superiority also over any of the so-called "Rotating, Spring-Tooth Harrows" is so great that no farmer can afford to buy the latter to save a few dollars difference in cost. The WARNER is far more economical than such.
Farmers are respectfully invited to examine the Warner Sulky Spring-Tooth Harrow and Seeder before locking further and purchase any other and inferior substitute for it. Send for Illustrated Descriptive Circulars and Price List.
